

October 2017

Dear Parent/Carer

Visit to the Noel Turner Physics Festival on Friday 20 October 2017

The IOW Studio School has been invited to attend the 'Noel Turner Physics Festival' event at Cowes Enterprise College on Friday 20 October 2017. The event will be a great opportunity for our students to attend presentations and visit the various information zones which give a great insight into Physics and also offer careers advice.

There will be a range of presentations available for our students to attend:

Space – so what?

Delivered by Professor Anu Ojha. Director of the UK National Space Academy Programme, the National Space centre and Consultant for the European Space Agency. He will explore the importance of space.

Onwards and Upwards Opportunities for women in science and Engineering.

Delivered by Dame Julia Cleverdon DCVO CBE Julia will introduce some young, female engineers to inspire girls about the opportunities available to them.

Careers in Healthcare

Delivered by Tom Warrender from Medical Mavericks. Tom will outline the career opportunities in the medical professions. The displays will include interactive exhibits such as ultrasound scanning and taking blood from a false arm.

After these 25 minute presentations students are able to move around the festival site and visit the various exhibits on display in the following zones:

BAE Systems Aerospace Zone

The Main Inspiration Zone

The Ellen Weeks Women in Science and Engineering Zone

The MHI Vestas Marine Technologies zone

The Airbus Defence and Space zone.

The students based at the Studio School will leave at 12.10 on a coach that will take them to Cowes Enterprise College accompanied by members of staff. Students at CECAMM will finish classes slightly early and will be picked up by coach at 12.15. This coach will then continue to the IOW college and pick up the students there at 12.30.
